Opening of Community Hall at Frank.

The opening services of the new Methodist hall at Frank on Sunday last, marked a new era in the mission work of that town, and judging by the amount of interest manifested both in the services and in the offering to the building fund, the people of Frank realize that as a result of the stirring energies of Rev. W. T. Young an institution has been established which will mean much for the social as well as the religious life of the town which has been the prey of the pestilence ever since the great slide. The new hall is being equipped for practically all purposes, and will have in connection with the hall proper, a large basement in which will be found various means of employing one's leisure hours in good, sound and profitable entertainment. The hall proper has a seating capacity for at least two hundred people, has a large stage and dressing rooms, and is arranged to serve not only as a place for public worship, but for general social entertainment.

The services on Sunday last were well attended. Major the Rev. Dr. Kerby, of Calgary, occupied the pulpit both morning and evening and delivered able and appropriate discourses. At the evening service a collection was taken on behalf of the building fund, which we understand amounted to more than $531. It was hoped to raise $100 on the opening day, and the fact that this amount was so oversubscribed augurs well for the appreciation held by the people for the new institution. During his remarks on Sunday night, Dr. Kerby paid the highest tribute to the zeal and ability of Mr. Young, who during his years of labor in Frank and The Pass has proved himself to be a man of the people. He was in entire sympathy with the new institution, which was intended to serve not only Methodists, but people of any creed or nationality. He felt that we were entering upon the dawn of a new era in church life, when denominational differences should be done away with, and when one sound Christianity should dominate. He understood that the new hall was built by a Mr. Weldon, and wished to say that he thought the job was "well done."

On Monday evening the ladies of the congregation served hot supper in the basement from six to eight o'clock, during which time over two hundred people partook of the good things provided. Following the supper Major Kerby delivered his popular lecture on "The War and the New Day."

Vocal solos were rendered by George Fairhurst at both Sunday and Monday night's meetings, and violin solos were rendered by Mr. J. Crawford, all of which were much appreciated.

The new hall has been erected at a cost of nearly three thousand dollars, and has only about $370 to raise to be free of debt. For the present the basement is to be used as a public school classroom, but later on will be equipped as a gymnasium and reading room.

A "Patheoscope" Motion Picture Machine has been installed, not for commercial reasons, but in order to give the community clean, educative entertainment and to relieve the monotony of every day life. A charge to cover running expenses will be made in this connection.

The Ladies Aid in connection with the church have raised about $100 for the building fund.

We understand that the Women's Missionary Society of Canada have promised to support a deaconess at Frank in connection with the new church, and one will be sent as soon as a suitable worker can be found.

The church board desire through the columns of The Enterprise to thank the ladies who supplied the supper and catered to the "hungry" crowd, and to all who in any manner contributed towards the success of the opening programmes.

Council Meeting

The regular meeting of the Blairmore town council took place last night, when the following accounts were passed for payment:

Alberta Gov't. Telephone $6.35.
Blairmore Trading Co. $4.00.
Blairmore Hardware Co. $1.30.
Remington Typewriter Co. $2.00.
R. M. Cement Co. $63.20.
J. C. Hendry $5.00.
F. Wright $75.00.
Dr. McDonald $150.00.
Blairmore School District $100.00.
A. McLeod $70.00.
W. A. Beebe $20.00.

Communications were received from the Union Bank of Canada; Wood, Gurdie & Co. and Rocky Mountain Cement Co.

Councillor Dutil introduced a by-law to appoint a returning officer for the municipal election to be held on December 11th. The by-law received its three readings and finally passed, appointing F. Wright as returning officer.

A proposal has been made to the Canadian banks to finance purchases of grain in the Dominion for the imperial government to the extent of $30,000,000.

A Strike Is Imminent

Five thousand miners, representing the payrolls of 22 mines in District 18, U.M.W. of A., will quit work on Saturday afternoon and will refuse to go to work on Monday if some settlement of their demands is not made.

Up to the present no decisive action has been taken by the Federal Government, and neither side to the controversy appears to be at all conciliatory. The union officials say they will strike, unless their demands are met in their entirety, and the operators' officials, who are gathering in Calgary, declare they will not yield. The lack of action on the part of the government indicates little hope that the two factions will be brought together this week in time to avert the walk-out on Monday morning. President Graham and International Board Member Rees, were in The Pass this week and held conferences with officials of all local miners unions.

Fearing a tie-up, there is such demand for domestic fuel that local delivery concerns fear they cannot supply the orders.

The London Times announces that its collections on behalf of the Red Cross has passed the $5,000,000 mark.

HEAT FLASHES, DIZZY, NERVOUS

Mrs. Wynn Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her During Change of Life.

Richmond, Va. — "After taking seven bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I feel like a new woman. I feel like I have had a headache during the Change of Life and was also troubled with other bad feelings common at that time — dizzy spells, nervous feelings and heat flashes. Now I am in better health than I ever was and recommend your remedies to all my friends." — Mrs. L. A. Wynn, 2312 E. O Street, Richmond, Va.

While Change of Life is a most critical period of a woman's existence, the annoying symptoms which accompany it may be controlled, and normal health restored by the timely use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Such warning symptoms are a sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, dizziness, drowsiness, timidity, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and inquietude, and dizziness.

For these abnormal conditions do not fail to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

CHAPTER IX.

Lord Moorhampton looked at his wife with an expression of calm resolution most unusual with him. He loved his own case above all things in this world, and having been spoiled throughout the whole of his life, and most skillfully managed by Lady Moorhampton, who, with an appearance of reasoning, and a combination of great astuteness where her own interests and pleasures were concerned, he was the victim of her whims. He had been considered likely to make a stand where his personal comfort was threatened by a domestic explosion of any kind.

There was in the viscous, however, a certain reserve of anger and resolution upon which he drew but rarely, but which was in good working order all the while.

Now that his over-indulged wife had thus betrayed her selfishness by this incautious display of temper, he addressed her in tones so sharp and in a manner so decided that she was crowded into outward submission at least.

"Miss West has earned our very deepest gratitude, Edith, by an action which has entailed the greatest inconvenience upon herself. Surely you must see that, if this is the son of Ciprian's in existence, it is of the highest importance that we should know all about him as soon as possible."

Lady Moorhampton looked askance at her husband, saw no sign of weakness or of wavering in his eye, and tried to smile.

"Yes, Oh, yes, of course, you're quite right, and I apologize." She turned to Mabin with an extension of the month which was made to do duty for a conciliatory look. "You will forgive me, won't you? It is rather hard, isn't it, to be told suddenly that my son — my son — whom both his father and I had looked upon as his heir, is — is —" she went on hysterically, "is just nobody, nobody whatever!"

"Come, come," said Lord Moorhampton kindly, interfering before

Mabin could do more than open her mouth to speak, "things haven't got as far as that yet. We have to make inquiries."

"You don't seem to consider that," cut in Lady Moorhampton with vivacity. "You seem to be ready to take everything for granted. You have never heard that Ciprian was married. If he was!"

"What have you inquired into, found out. Depend upon it," said Lord Moorhampton. "I was on the point of inquiring up my lawyers when you came in."

"Lawyers!" repeated she with a frown. "Is that necessary — yet — no. 'Most necessary. The only alternative is one which you would not, I think, care for me to take,' said Lord Moorhampton, with exceeding dryness, as he again returned to the telephone on the writing-table.

"What alternative do you mean?" He turned to her gravely.

"There are some very strange features about the whole affair. If I did not consult my lawyers, the matter would certainly end in reaching the hands of the police."

A deadly change came over the flighty, fluttering hysterical woman at those words. On the instant she lost her little silly airs of irresponsible complaint and distress, and became a hard, careful, watchful creature, able to control her feelings sufficiently to take note of everything the words, looks and demeanor of the two people present.

With a white face and stealthily from her husband to the trembling girl in the background.

"The parcel for which you mean?" she asked in a toneless voice.

"Well, there are unpleasant features about the story," he began dryly. "The story brought by this girl," said Lady Moorhampton, with a flashing look of scorn at poor Mabin.

"The story brought by this young lady," said Lord Moorhampton with a frown.

"Who sent her here? Where does she come from? Has she satisfied you, as he sat down in a chair by the writing-table."

"I see," she moaned, "it is I, I and my child, who are wanted. My relations are suspected, are to be treated as criminals."

He interrupted her quickly. "Criminals!" he ejaculated quickly. "What makes you think that?"

"I'll send you," she said in a frightened voice. "He has done nothing wrong, nothing. I will send him to answer for himself. And if you believe the word of this person you don't know, you never saw before, against him, I shall know what to think."

With this forcible feeble parting shot, she went out of the room, leaving poor Mabin huddled up, cold with alarm and misery, in her chair, and Lord Moorhampton, stern, still and silent, standing as if lost in thought by the writing-table near the middle of the room.

There was a long pause, and then the girl asked in a shy, constrained voice, if it might go away.

He turned to look at her, without a smile. She saw that his face had been pale, but she did not know that he had noticed when she first arrived, and he looked determined and solemn.

"You had better stay," he said, not harshly, but with decision. "It is important that you and he should be together to face that, what you should repeat your story, and we should both have heard what he has to say."

In the meantime, however, Lady Moorhampton had been preparing her brother for the coming ordeal, she took her time over it, certainly, for it was not until a quarter of an hour after she had left the room that the sound of Joe Wright's voice came to the ears of Lord Moorhampton.

"Wright was whistling as he came along the passage and thumped in an odd manner on the panels of the library door."

"Come in," said Lord Moorhampton, as he sat down in a chair by the writing-table."

A Valuable Report

Seventh Annual Report of the Commission of Conservation

The focussing of public attention in Canada upon the problem of strengthening our national organization through increased development and commercial efficiency lends special value and interest to the Seventh Annual Report of the Commission of Conservation, which has just been issued.

The activities of this commission, relating to the entire field of primary production, aim to secure greater efficiency in basic industries in the development and utilization of Canada's natural resources.

One of the most important of the past year's work is notable primarily for the progress recorded in the constructive programs entered upon by the newly formed town planning branch, with respect to one of our greatest and most urgent national problems, viz., the proper use and development of land, particularly in urban areas.

Widespread legislation of an advanced character has been secured in several provinces, and thorough investigation of housing conditions has also been undertaken with a view to the drafting of model housing laws.

Rapid progress has been achieved in the promotion of independent city organization throughout the Dominion for the purpose of securing more general and thorough study of public questions.

A second noteworthy feature is the attention devoted by the commission to the reduction of the heavy economic handicap imposed upon Canada through her enormous annual fire losses.

The commission is engaged in a careful study of the causes, the extent and best methods of remedying this avoidable tax upon the country's resources.

The section of the report containing the results of an agricultural survey in four representative counties presents accurate and definite data regarding the deficiencies of Canada's chief industry and affords a valuable indication of the lines along which efforts to improve rural conditions, economic and social, should be directed.

Steady progress has been made by the commission in the huge task of national stock-taking, the urgent necessity for which becomes daily more apparent. Recent experience has served to emphasize the need for accurate knowledge of the nature and extent of the Dominion's wealth in land, forests, minerals, water power, fisheries and wild life, as a guide to intelligent and permanent national development.

A Candid Juror

"Yes, we acquitted that woman, although most of us considered her guilty."

"Then you shouldn't have acquitted her."

"I know we shouldn't. She wasn't very good looking." — Judge.

Boy Scout Notes

Boy Scout Camps as Successful the Past Season as in Other Years

Though the war had called from Canada a great many Scoutmasters and other Scout officials, thereby creating a lack of leadership, the Boy Scout camps throughout the Dominion have held camps during the summer, and as successful this last summer as in other years.

Reports from Manitoba and Quebec show that camp life and activities loomed up as big as ever this summer in those provinces. The Manitoba Provincial Secretary reports that "a large percentage of our troops have held camps during the summer," while the Quebec Provincial Secretary states that "the past summer's first camp tests scattered among seventy Scouts passed. At Trempealeau camp, thirty-five proficiency badges were won by eastern troops. About one hundred proficiency badges were earned at Tamarac, and some one hundred and seventy-five first camp tests scattered among seventy Scouts passed."

The reports from Quebec camps are indeed encouraging. There were two camps held, one at Tamarac and the other in the eastern townships known as "Memphremagog." About one hundred proficiency badges were earned at Tamarac, and some one hundred and seventy-five first camp tests scattered among seventy Scouts passed.

An equally interesting report comes from Robert Baden-Powell's camp, in the province was held at Souris, and from the standpoint of badges won it was the most successful camp of the season. "At one of the most popular of Manitoba's summer resorts," writes the Secretary, "it was stated that the Boy Scouts' camp was the best conducted camp in the community, they having dug their own well and having sanitary arrangements of the finest kind."

The late Lord Kitchener was a true friend of the Boy Scout movement. Writing of him in a recent issue of the Headquarters Gazette, Sir Robert Baden-Powell says, "He was in the matter of policy opposed to our taking up cadet training in the Dominion, and he was a patriotic people, carried away with zeal for the war, were urging upon him to take up the cadet training."

Lord Kitchener saw wider and further than they. He said: 'You are not to take up the cadet training, but to take up the Boy Scout training, which is essential for making good men. Whether they afterwards become soldiers or not, matters little, but character is the thing to be built up.'

To be the seventeenth in a single family to answer the call for war service is the probably unparalleled record of Scoutmaster Masters of the 1st British Columbia Sea Scouts, and one of the most popular Scout units in Vancouver. Such devotion makes the British Empire what it is today.

Master's troop of Sea Scouts is one of three in Canada, and for their training ship have been using the Robert Louis Stevenson's ship "Casco," which was used during the famous writer's sojourn in the South Sea Islands.

Notwithstanding the large number of enlistments for war service of senior Boy Scouts and scoutmasters, the annual census of the numerical strength as of June 30th last, shows an appreciable gain throughout Canada. This gain, totalling 1,199, is largely made up in increase in the number of Scouts in the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, where reorganization was effected in 1915.

Maritime Provinces continue to hold their own, and British Columbia reports holding well together.

The figures are as follows:

Ontario	344	7,146
British Columbia	111	1,004
Alberta	111	1,004
Saskatchewan	137	1,453
Manitoba	113	1,061
Quebec	113	891
New Brunswick	75	893
Nova Scotia	41	747
Prince Edward Island	3	192

Total 1,032 17,542

Comparison with 1915, this shows a decrease in officers of 52 and an increase of 1,199 Scouts, and with 1914 an increase of 120 officers and 2,978 Scouts.

From these figures it will be seen that the great need at present is leaders. The Chief Scout for the Empire is quoted as saying: "Scoutmasters are the backbone of the movement, and the finding of suitable men is our greatest difficulty."

"Herbert" said a school teacher, turning to a bright young man, "can you tell me what lightning is?"

"Yes, I can," the young man replied. "Lightning is streaks of electricity."

"Well, that may pass," said the teacher, encouragingly. "Now tell me why it is that lightning never strikes twice in the same place."

"Because," answered Herbert, "after it hits once the same place ain't there any more."

"Do you ever wake yourself up snoring?"

"I don't know. I don't know. I frequently wake up the baby."

Tunnel Under English Channel is Approved

Would Cost $20,000,000 and is Regarded as Desirable

Full reconsideration of the question of the advisability of constructing a tunnel under the English Channel to connect England and France was promised by Premier Asquith in receiving a deputation in favor of the project. He said the matter would be taken up either by the war committee or the committee on imperial defence.

The premier admitted that before the war the balance of opinion had been against the project, but said that the experience of the war undoubtedly was a new factor of importance in enabling statesmen and naval and military experts to judge of the value of such a tunnel. He added that such a tunnel as the deputation proposed would have put the country in a better position for transporting the war expeditionary force and for the general purposes of the war.

"I will see," added the Premier. "That time will be found for a full review of the question in the light of that experience."

This year it was announced that France had taken all the necessary steps to enter into negotiations with England for the joint construction of a tunnel under the English Channel.

Thus far the tunnel were outlined at that time by M. Sartiaux, chief engineer of the Nord Railway Company. He said that the tunnel would cost $20,000,000, and that if it was apportioned equally between England and France, two days' war time expenditure of both countries would more than cover the cost of the tunnel. M. Sartiaux said that it was proposed to make two tunnels and said that the possession of such a tunnel at the outbreak of the war would have been of great use both to France and England.

Tommy had a thirst for knowledge.

"Dad," he asked one day, "what's natural philosophy?"

"Natural philosophy, my boy," replied father, passing a hand over his noble brow, "is the science of cause and effect."

"And the happy atmosphere of that little home was suddenly wrecked."

Are Sharing in Sacrifice

For months past each issue of the weekly edition of the London Times has contained a long, closely-printed list of officers among the casualties. In the last number to arrive there are two and a half columns of names of those connected with Old Country regiments. Immediately following is a little more than a column of Australian and New Zealand names, and then a full column and a half of those of Canadian.

This service we bring home to one in an impressive way to what an extent the dominion are sharing the sacrifices which the war demands of the Motherland. — Edmonton Journal.

To Guard Against Forest Disasters

Remedial Action Necessary to Preserve Our Timber Supplies

The ruinous forest fires in Northern Ontario last summer have directed the attention of many people in this province to the conditions which present an equal hazard. Ontario's fires were the product of settlers burning their slash without any supervision or guidance whatever. To prevent a repetition of the disaster in the next dry year, the Ontario Government will probably give their forest rangers and other officers full control of clearing fire by a simple system of issuing permits.

British Columbia, Quebec, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and most forested states of the American Union took similar steps some years ago to guard the lives and property of settlers and save local supplies of timber from exhaustion.

Remedial action against bush fires in Ontario was prompted by the death of 262 men, women and children, and it is hoped that no such losses will be necessary in this province before preventive measures are taken. Year after year Ontario has been the scene of settlers' fires and the inevitable penalty was exacted. The Claybirt fire last year cost the lives of 12 men and 100 horses and caused a loss of $100,000.

Most of our new settlers come from the north and are not familiar with the province's forest. Those in charge of forest patrol must take steps to educate the settlers and to give them the necessary permits to burn, and insisting upon reasonable precautions, the reduction of our timber must go on. The greater part of the north is non-agricultural and it is to be hoped that by haphazard fires brings no advantage to anyone, and leaves the province permanently poorer.

Mothers Value This Oil—Mothers who know how suddenly croup may seize their children and how necessary prompt action is in applying relief, should keep at hand a supply of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, because experience has taught them that there is no better preparation to be had for the treatment of this ailment. And they are wise, for its various uses render it a valuable medicine.

Should All Pass Examination

There is common sense in the suggestion made by Justice Middleton in his address to a Toronto grand jury, that every individual driving a motor car should be required to pass an examination just the same as chauffeurs who drive cars for a living. Many of the car accidents are caused by inexperience and incompetency on the part of drivers—Hamilton Herald.

Does Advertising Pay?

Broadcasters have compiled statistics that prove that 84 per cent. of the failures are among the non-advertiser.

The merchant who does not believe in the use of printers ink has never advertised right. PERSONAL

St. Catharines, Ont.—"Two years ago I was in a very serious, generally run-down condition, so that I awoke in the morning more tired than when I retired. The doctor thought I was suffering from a nervous condition and treated me for it but I got no relief. Dr. Pierce's remedy through a healthy taking of about three months ago and am glad to tell you one how splendidly your medicine has healed me. I feel like a new man."—J. H. Goshaw, Ont.

The highly restorative power of Dr. Pierce's Food and Fruit Syrup is a fact which is well known to all who have used it. It is a wonderful preparation prepared only from nature's roots and herbs with no alcohol to falsify the nerves. It banishes pain, restores vitality, builds up the system, and gives a new lease of life. The First Prohibition

The first prohibitive measure was that of the Haxon King Edgar, who nearly a thousand years ago, on the advice of Dunstan, put down many ale houses, only allowing one to exist in any village or small town, and at the same time limit the draughts of the drinkers. The common drinking cup of that day held about two quarts, and Edgar had eight pints of ale in each cup, and heavy penalties being imposed on each who drank from one pint to another at each time. Neither the working nor the result of the Act encouraged Edgar's successors to further action, and the next prohibitive legislation on the sale of liquor is due to Henry VII., who, by an Act against vagabonds and the beggars in the year 1495, gave power to any two justices of the peace to stop the common selling of strong ale in towns and any other places than they thought necessary.

The Alternatives

You either enlist or you don't enlist. If you don't enlist you have nothing to worry about, but if you do enlist you have two alternatives—you're either in camp here or overseas.

If you're in camp here you have nothing to worry about, but if you're overseas you have two alternatives—you're either in the trenches or you're in the reserve or in the hospitals.

Disabled Canadian Soldiers

What is Being Done To Restore Their Ability

The Military Hospital Commission at Ottawa informs us that 2,081 soldiers were under its care at the beginning of this month. Of these, 524 were at Sanatories for intercalary, and 1,016 at Convalent Hospital, 683 of the latter being out-patients—while 39 members of the force were in the line of the front.

Of the 256 cases of tuberculosis, it may be added, almost exactly half were discovered in time to prevent them from leaving Canada for the seat of war.

According to a statement prepared by the Military Department, up to October 5,

1916, the number of soldiers sent back to Canada because of medical infirmities was 5,388. Of these, 961 were suffering from wounds, shell-shock, or the effect of gas;

122 were insane; 245 were afflicted with tuberculosis; while the remainder, 4,860, were suffering from other diseases and disabilities.

All Canadians ought to know what is being done by the Military Hospital

Commission, acting on behalf of the whole body of citizens, for the restoration of their wounded defenders to a position of self-support and independence.

Every disabled soldier is medically examined on arrival at Quebec. If he is no longer in need of hospital treatment, he is sent home free of expense and discharged with a pension or gratuity according to the extent of his disability.

If he needs further treatment, he is taken to the hospital or sanatorium where the treatment most suitable to his case is available, and, if possible, to the institution nearest his home. Men who cannot resume their former work on discharge from hospital are advised and enabled to take special training for new occupations.

A special fund for the purpose of providing free of cost, and while the men are being treated, the Dominion Government maintains them and their families.

Men needing artificial limbs are taken to Toronto, where these limbs are made and supplied without charge. Men with serious nervous disorders are treated specially in the Ontario Military Hospital at

Cobourg

Coleman Opera House

ONE NIGHT FRIDAY, DEC. 1st ONE NIGHT

PEG O' MY HEART

Down at the Coleman Opera House on the night of Friday, December 1st, the really meritorious production of "Peg o' My Heart" will be presented by the United Producing Company. Of the supreme delight of comedy success which ran for two years at the Court Theatre in New York, little introduction is needed, but it is necessary to introduce the present producing company, and to say that it is a revolution is not an exaggeration. Many of the high-priced road companies in larger productions have been vastly inferior, and no adjective of praise is too strong to describe the excellent work of the nine characters who stage the comedy. Dorothy LaVere, a genuinely womanly lassie from the Emerald Isle, with histrionic ability sufficient to ultimately assure her the "three-foot-high" electric name lightens the stellar role in a manner which wins all hearts. She is clever to a marked degree, and in her work she is ably supported by the other members of the company, who seem to have been selected for their personal and physical adaptability for the characters they portray. William Sauter as "Jerry," Verne Dunlop as "Alaric," Nelson Dickson as "Montgomery Hawkes," and Kathryn Sheldon as "Mrs. Chichester," are all especially clever people, and, in fact, every member of the cast is well adapted. Well-filled houses have greeted the performance all along the tour, and equally good patronage is assured them on their visit to Coleman next week. "Peg" comes to England and falls unannounced in the midst of an English family of aristocratic relatives with strict traditions. She walks into the library with her shabby, though real, dog under her arm. It seems she was killed on the Chichesters by a relative just dead. She is a daughter of a runaway sister of the family, who married beneath her station and went off to America. "Peg" has had no advantage, except poverty, which lets her see something of life. Her Irish father whom she describes as the best man in the world, gave her a quaint brogue and her wit—but very little else—except her looks, which are quite out of the ordinary. The light and shadow of contrast between the convention perished the Chichesters, and natural "Peg" forms the basis for the humorous situations in the play. "Peg" falls in love with Sir Gerald, a young executor of the will which has provided for "Peg" whom she pretends to know under the name of Jerry. She makes him take her to a dance which she is forbidden to attend, and afterwards stops her cousin from running away with a married man with whom she is infatuated.

Want To Jug-Handle Patriotism in Canada

It is certainly up to our French fellow-subjects in Quebec to get on a big move and get more recruits into line in this great fight for the cause of Right and Democracy the wide world over. In that province of more than 1,600,000 people, only some 40,000 volunteers have come forward for the cause of liberty, justice and humanity. Approximately one half of this number has been recruited in the English-speaking sections of that province. It is up to loyal French leaders of both political parties to commence a campaign of recruiting in Quebec that will remove the disgrace that the French of the Province of Quebec are not willing to do their share in this terrible war. If a few disloyal leaders in that province are to be followed, and indeed, even in this Empire emergency, then there is a danger that we will all regret, of a most threatening kind growing up, between Quebec and the rest of the Dominion. —TRUTH NEWS.

"The Girl He Couldn't Buy"

"The Girl He Couldn't Buy," another Sherman attraction, will be presented at the Blairmore Opera House on Thursday, December 7th, and Coleman Opera House, Wednesday, December 6th.

For dramatic interest and full-fledged comedy, this play outstrips any former production sent over the western circuit. It is the play which today, is causing a sensation all over America. It is a combined entertainment of thrills and laughs. A unique combination of comedy and melodrama.

The story is that of a pretty girl who protects a burglar from the police who are pursuing him, and hides him in her lodgings, even at the risk of her reputation. He in turn protects her from a wealthier crook who seeks to get her into his power. A bold stroke, planned by the burglar and executed by him and the girl, forces her prosecutor to let her alone and to make restitution for the valuable property he has stolen from her father. It is impossible to describe the many interesting and unique scenes that fill every moment of this great play.

Sherman attractions have gained great favor in the West, during the last few months and this play will come here bearing the same guarantee that is attached to all his productions. A splendid cast will be presented and it can be depended it will be one of the hits of the season.

The "Negatives," led by W. H. Chappell, won in the debate held last night in the Oddfellows' hall under the auspices of the Blairmore Social Club. The subject was "Resolved that heredity is more potent than environment in the formation of character." J. F. Hunter led the "affirmative," supported by C. R. Pearson and R. Green, while W. H. Chappell was supported by John Loughran and G. A. La Voie. During the evening musical selections were rendered by Miss M. Williams and Mr. J. Crawford, and Miss Taylor, of Hillcrest, rendered several songs. Mrs. J. R. Smith and Messrs. J. C. Roodhouse and W. Shaw acted as judges.

Even Hospital Treatment For Kidney Disease Failed

Well-Known Commercial Traveller Says That Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills Undoubtedly Cured Him

News of his recovery from kidney disease will be welcomed by the many friends of Mr. D. Griffin throughout the lower townships and the adjoining district of the United States. Mr. Griffin has traversed this section for 35 years and what he says will be accepted as proven by all who know him best.

He tells in his letter how relief was obtained by treatment in Sherbrooke and Montreal hospitals, but the old kidney trouble returned again and again until by the persistent use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills cure was effected. As he says, these pills "undoubtedly did the work."

Mr. L. D. Griffin, Bureau of Commerce, Quebec, writes: "I can add one more statement of kidney disease cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. For about twenty years I was bothered more or less with the kidneys, then the disease became worse and I was sick in bed for one year, took doctor's medicine to no avail, and on his advice went to Sherbrooke Hospital, where I was benefited but the trouble returned and I tried a Montreal hospital. Got a little better, but the help was only temporary and I was soon again troubled.

"On the advice of a friend, I began to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and I now thank that friend for today I am as free from kidney disease as I ever was in my life. I owe the cure to Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, for they undoubtedly did the work. I am 68 years old and have spent 35 years as a traveller calling on the drug trade. Everywhere I am told that Dr. Chase's medicines are the best sellers and give the best satisfaction of any medicines on the market. Shall be glad to answer any questions in regard to my cure if people care to write me."

By again carrying off the highest prize for wheat at the international exhibition of soil products at El Paso, Mr. Steager Wheeler has once more demonstrated to the world Saskatchewan's outstanding position as a wheat-producing country. At the Annual for years past this world-famed trophy has been awarded to Mr. Wheeler, who has thus rendered invaluable service to Saskatchewan.—Regina Leader.

Every careful and observant mother knows when her child suffers from worms. She also knows that if some remedy be not speedily applied much harm will result to the infant. The best application that can be got is Miller's Worm Powders. They drive worms from the system and set up stimulating and soothing effects, so that the child's progress thereafter is painless and satisfactory.

Every Soldier to Carry Two Discs

In future each officer and soldier in the British army will be supplied with two identity discs, to be suspended from the neck.

Though no explanation of the order for the innovation is given, it is thought that the idea is to use the second disc in the event of the loss of the identity of a body, after the first is removed for the purpose of the casualty list.

The second disc will be suspended by six inches of cord from the upper, the former being red and the latter green.

The Steady Pressure

British Achievements on the Western Front

Combes and Thiepval are in fact the names of vast series of strategic works on which the best brains and the unceasing labor of the Germans have been spent for almost two years. The Germans, who had been meditating a war of this kind for years, were taken by surprise when we understood how to attack them. They seemed this line with a tremendous artillery and stubbornly defended it with hosts of their choicest troops. We have driven them from it. That is the real meaning of their official apology, and the real reason for the triumph felt by our men at the front. They know, as the German general staff know, that the vast system of underground works which we have taken was a far more formidable defence than the strongest of the famed fortresses along the Belgian frontier. They know that the advance of half a mile, or a mile, which looks so very small on the map as compared with the distance to the frontiers, means the infliction of exhausting defeats upon the enemy in gigantic conflicts, the slaughter of numbers of his troops, and the capture of quantities of his guns and stores.—London Times.

Good-Bye, Old Backache

Nervine Will Fix You!

Stiffness Is Rubbed Right Out Every Sign of Pain Disappears

Get whiz—think of it! No more stomach dosing necessary to cure your lame back.

Every trace of lameness, every bit of stiffness, every sign of weakness in the back's muscles can be rubbed away for all time to come by good old "Nervine."

No other liniment can do the work so quickly, can penetrate so deeply, can bring ease and comfort to the back-weary sufferer as Nervine.

Backache isn't the only malady Nervine is quick to cure. For lumbago or sciatica you would go far to find relief so speedy as Nervine gives. For chronic rheumatism there is no other remedy so effective.

For the pain-destroying properties in Nervine that give it first rank. The way it limbers up a stiff joint and takes away for all time to come by good old "Nervine."

If you have an ache or a pain anywhere, if you have a sore back, a stiff neck, a stiff joint, a strained muscle, if you have lumbago, congested chest, sore throat, just try Nervine. Rub it on plentifully—it won't blister, it can't do anything but cure you.

The large 50c. family size bottle is the most economical, of course, but you can, from any dealer, also get the 25c. small size. The king of all pain-relieving remedies.

"Well Hit" A capital yarn is going the rounds about the Duke of Connaught, which is too good as a piece of fiction to pass over.

When opening a new rifle range in Manitoba, His Royal Highness was invited to fire the first shot. The thing distracted him as he fired, and it was plain to everyone present, including the Duke himself, that it was a bad miss. When the target was brought along for inspection it was found, however, that the bullet hole was right in the centre of the "bull."

The Duke was much amused, but he found out afterwards that the range officer had prepared it the night before.

Prepared "I'm thinking of getting married, pa. What's it like?" "You had a job as janitor once, didn't you?" "Yes."

"And you had a position as watchman once, didn't you?" "Yes."

"And you worked a while as a caretaker, didn't you?" "Yes."

"Well, it's a combination of all three jobs—and then some."

Farmers Should Keep Accounts

Locating Profitable Parts of the Business and the Lines That Must Not Be Crossed

Most farmers who make much progress each year, and also on each branch of it. When they sell a head of cattle they tell about how they made out. They say how much it cost them to grow corn, oats and wheat. They know how much interest they are making on their investments or how much they have left out of their income for their own use.

The great trouble with farm accounts is that they are neglected during the summer when work in the field is at its height.

Then, too, some men do not hit on a system of accounts which allows analysis of the business at the close of the year. Accounts miss their most important object unless they can be summed up at the close of the year.

Extracting Oil From Fish Waste

Conservation Commission Will Ascertain Commercial Possibilities of This Material

The Conservation Commission has established a research station at Port Dover in order to ascertain what commercial use can be made of the fish oil and fish waste, which together average at least a ton a day during the fishing season. Already some fine-bodied oils have been extracted from waste fish, but hitherto been considered waste material and a great nuisance to dispose of. These oils might, apparently, be made use of in the manufacture of soap, or, as in the case of the porgie oil of the Atlantic coast, as a paint.

It is probable that the residue after the only substance has been extracted may be utilized still further, the particular products as a feed and the remainder as a conveniently-handled waste material.

After sufficient data have been secured the Government, it is expected, will discontinue the station, but all available information will be placed at the disposal of the local fishermen, who may then establish a conservation plant of sufficient capacity to speedily and profitably dispose of the waste material.

The research station is in charge of J. B. Fielding, until lately scientific adviser in the Ontario Fisheries Department, whose technical knowledge along this line was acquired in Great Britain, France, Japan and Germany.

RHEUMATISM AFTER HIS DAY'S OUTING

Hunting Trip on a Wet Day Brings Painful Results

Once upon a time Charles Mullen, of Philadelphia, went gunning. It was a dismal rainy day, and long exposure to cold and wet brought on a severe attack of rheumatism. He was confined to his home.

A friend recommended Sloan's Liniment. Sloan's Liniment was used and he was able to return to business.

Mullen writes: "Since that experience I have never been without Sloan's Liniment in the medicine chest. It cures rheumatism, sprains, bruises, sprains, toothache and relieves lame back, neuralgia, in fact everything that ails a druggist, 25c, 50c, and $1.00 a bottle."

Sloan's Liniment KILLS PAIN

Motorist: You want five pounds' compensation? Why, the last time I knocked you over, you were content with a sovereign.

Victim: Everything has gone up during the war, sir.—London Opinion.

Ethel: I see it is reported that Miss last year recorded 6,222 marriages.

Patience: It's hard to believe that Maine is a summer resort.—Yonkers Statesman.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS USED TEN YEARS

Mrs. C. E. Stilwell, Winthrop, Sask., writes: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for the past ten years and have found them so good for my little ones that I always keep a box in the house."

Mrs. Stilwell is one of the many mothers who always keep the Tablets on hand. Once a mother has used them for her little ones, she will never do without them. They are absolutely free from opiates and injurious drugs and cannot possibly do harm to the youngest child. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

To Meet in Japan World's Sunday School Convention Will Be Held in Tokio

An invitation of the Japanese to hold the next convention of the World's Sunday School Association in Tokio has been accepted, it is announced by the World's Committee, which met here recently. The meeting will be held after the close of the war. The invitation was made by Mr. Okura, a message from the Japanese committee, of which Mr. Okura, former Premier of Japan, is president.

Thomas K. Ferens, member of the British Parliament, was elected President of the association by the committee, succeeding the late Sir Robert Laidlaw of London. The association, it is announced, has 304,000 Sunday schools in all countries, and has a membership of 31,000,000.

It was announced that the organization is carrying out plans for sending 1,000 New Testament to the soldiers in the trenches, hospitals and prison camps, to be contributed by American Sunday school children.

"I hear your son graduated with high honors. Has he found a position?" "Oh, yes; one that seems to suit him first rate."

"What is it?" "In a haumuck."

A Pair of Pious Edith: Isn't it a pity that poor men don't know enough to remain single? Marie: Yes, and that rich ones do.

A Contrast

The British and German Method of Treating Prisoners of War

Zeppelin raiders who have fallen to their death in England or are surrendered as prisoners are being treated with a humanity, even a chivalry, which is in the highest degree creditable to the English people in view of the provocation to make them the subject of reprisals. Captain Fryatt, who did only his duty in defending his ship from a submarine attack, and whose status was clearly that of a prisoner of war, was shot by the Germans, though his resistance to capture had not cost a single German life.
